Masters Degree in Engineering Management

PREPARE TO SHAPE A BETTER FUTURE

Stellenbosch University Faculty of Engineering is proud to announce the launch of an exciting new hybrid online Masters Degree in Engineering Management (MEM), specifically designed to equip early to mid-career engineers and scientists with the skills they require to manage engineering, technology, innovation, strategy, projects, people and places.

The MEM curriculum is future-oriented aiming to develop leaders who will proactively contribute towards shaping a better new future rather than merely reacting to a world dictated by others. These are the people who will create the new technologies, industries, jobs and prosperity of tomorrow.
