Dear SACNASP Registered Scientist,

Identification of Competent Natural Science Geo-Professionals that comply with the requirements of SANS 1936.

The South African Council for Natural Scientific Professions (SACNASP) established a Professional Advisory Committee for competent geo-professionals that comply with the requirements of SANS 1936. SANS 1936 is the national standard applicable to development of dolomite land. Dolomitic land is itself classified as D1 to D4 with an increasing level of economic and safety risks.

Annexure A of SANS 1936 defines its required competence levels for geo-professionals. SANS 1936 defines different levels of competence in terms of geo-professionals with Level 2 (L2) being the registered professional who “possesses a level of knowledge and experience in keeping with the norms of the professions”. This is the level at which SACNASP starts to register natural scientists. The professionals that can assess "D4 dolomitic terrain" though are regarded as having achieved Level 4 competency with regards development on D4 dolomitic terrain.

SACNASP registration does not have stratification of professional membership level by experience as defined in SANS 1936 but SACNASP is eligible to participate in facilitating a resolution. SACNASP currently recommends a solution that empowers the voluntary associations who are specialists in structural and engineering geology, namely the South African Institute for Engineering and Environmental Geologists (SAIEG) and the Geological Society of South Africa (GSSA) (both are SACNASP recognised voluntary associations) to identify competent geo-professionals as defined in SANS 1936. Both voluntary associations have been engaged in this process to date and have been afforded the opportunity to contribute and engage their members in the process.

The criteria to assess competence can be derived from various sources in addition to the SANS 1936 guidance. The criteria required for the evaluation of competent professionals will be utilized by the PAC established by SACNASP which will be empowered to make recommendations and nominations for categorization in terms of SANS 1936.

Applicants interested in pursuing this route are requested to submit a Portfolio of Experience from the 12th July 2021, to the 6th of August 2021 to the SACNASP offices, c/o Landi Jacobs (landi@sacnasp.org.za) and ensure that you receive an acknowledgement of submission. The PAC will then commence with assessments.
